Frequently Asked Questions

Can I claim the 80C deductions at the time of filing the return in case I have not submitted proof to my employer?

You need to give evidence of your investments to your employer by the end of the financial year. This helps your employer calculate your taxable income and the amount of tax to deduct from your salary. If you forget to submit the proof of investments to your employer, you can still claim those investments when you file your income tax return. Just make sure the investments were made before the end of the financial year, i.e 31st March 2024

I have made an 80C investment on 30 April 2024. For which year can I claim this investment as a deduction?

You can claim deduction for the investments made in the ITR of that financial year. So, let's say you made an investment on April 30, 2024, you can claim it as a deduction while filing your taxes for the FY 2024-2025.

education. Can I claim the interest paid on such a loan as a deduction under Section 80E?

You can only get a deduction on the interest you paid for an education loan under Section 80E if you borrowed the money from a bank or other financial institution to fund your higher education. If you took a loan from your employer, you won't be able to claim the interest deduction under Section 80E.

Is there any restriction or maximum limit up to which I can claim a deduction under Section 80E?

Law has not prescribed any upper limit for deduction under Section 80E. Hence, the actual interest paid during a year can be claimed as deduction.

Can a company or a firm take benefit of Section 80C?

The provisions of Section 80C apply only to individuals or a Hindu Undivided Family (HUF). Hence, a company or a firm cannot take benefit of Section 80C.

I have been paying life insurance premiums to a private insurance company. Can I claim an 80C deduction for the premium paid?

You can get a deduction under Section 80C when you pay life insurance premiums to an insurance company approved by the Insurance Regulatory Authority of India, whether they are public or private. So, the premiums you pay for insurance can also help you claim an 80C deduction.
